Preparing for your visit to the farm.

At Key Stage 1 the farm visit will enable the pupils' first-hand experiences to be widened in a whole range of visual, tactile, and other sensory situations. Within this are the important messages of the life cycle and seasonal change. There is a wealth of opportunity for language development and literacy skills.

At Key Stage 2 the farm visit can stimulate and excite pupils' curiosity. It also satisfies their curiosity as they begin to apply their knowledge and understanding of ideas. Pupils can consider the farm as a good example of an environment affected by human activity, think about attitudes to farming, the rural environment and the conflicts of interest that arise. They talk about their work and its significance and communicate their ideas using a wide range of language.

At Key Stage 3 many different subject requirements can be addressed. For example, in history, the adaptation of farm buildings over the centuries can offer first-hand evidence of social and technological changes. This readily promotes the skills of handling and assessing. Pupils can investigate and debate a wide range of complex issues and begin to understand the environmental, social, and economic implications.

At Key Stage 4 farm visits can be used to deliver examination subjects both academic and vocational. Contact with farmers will help to focus on the real-life application of skills within the workplace, engaging pupils with contemporary issues and focusing on their role as users and consumers.

For suggestions on planning, pre-visit activities or to follow up your visit then please speak to the Educational Officer. West Lodge has devised video clips in relation to all aspects of farming which can be found on-
<https://en-gb.facebook.com/pg/westlodge.farmpark/videos/>

Themed educational activity sheets and farm resources such as sheep's wool, animal hair, eggs etc. can be provided on request.

An evaluation form will be provided at the pre-visit stage, allowing you time to observe what the visit may entail. We are always grateful for all comments and feedback to continually thrive to improve our services.

Things to remember when visiting the farm.

Risk assessment

We advise a pre-visit to our farm, during which you can carry out a risk assessment and become familiar with the site. A copy of the farm's risk assessment is available on request, or can be downloaded from our website:

www.westlodgegeruralcentre.co.uk

Clothing

You and your pupils should wear appropriate outdoor clothing, including sturdy shoes or Wellingtons, not sandals.

Behaviour

Teachers/group leaders are responsible for the children's behaviour throughout the visit. The children should understand how to behave on the farm and always follow the Countryside Code.

The Countryside Code.

There are five sections of The Countryside Code dedicated to helping us learn how to respect, protect, and enjoy the countryside: -

- Be safe, plan ahead and follow any signs
- Leave gates and property as you find them
- Protect plants and animals and take your litter home
- Keep dogs under close control
- Consider other people

Health and safety.

We comply with health and safety regulations, and details of facilities for hand washing, etc., are provided later in this booklet. However, it is important that all children and supervising adults are aware of the correct health and safety guidelines.

The risk of infection is very small, but the disease caused by an infection could be serious. By following the simple guidelines, which are similar to everyday basic hygiene recommendations, the risk can be easily minimised.

The Health & Safety Executive has produced new guidelines called:
HSE sheet AIS23 – Avoiding ill health at open farms – Advice to farmers.
HSE sheet AIS23 supplement – Avoiding ill health at open farms – Advice for teachers.
The supplement to AIS23 advises teachers and others who organise farm visits on controlling the risk of infection from animals which the children may have contact with during their visit. (Can be downloaded from our website)

www.westlodgegeruralcentre.co.uk

All animals naturally carry a range of micro-organisms, some of which can be transmitted to humans, where they may cause ill health. Some infections which may be contracted on farms, such as the bacterium Escherichia coli O157 (E coli O157), present a serious hazard and potentially cause severe disease, which may be particularly acute in young children.

While the hazard from infection resulting from a farm visit is real, the risk is small because it can be readily controlled by following sensible steps which will help make your visit safe, healthy, and enjoyable.

Safety Guidelines.

To ensure a safe as well as fun day, please take note of the following guidelines. Adults are responsible for ensuring they and children with them follow the guidelines below and wash their hands properly.

- Keep fingers away from mouths whilst around the animals.
- Do not kiss the animals.
- Alcohol rubs are in animal contact areas, BUT hands must still be washed with soap & water after visiting animal areas, particularly before you eat, drink, enter play areas or leave.
- Do not eat or drink in animal areas.
- Child dummy/pacifier, if dropped, should be thoroughly cleaned before it is used again.
- Be aware pigs may bite. Do not feed by hand
- Do not taste or eat the animal feed.
- Pregnant women should avoid all contact with newly born lambs and their mothers.
- Please keep to all paths and tracks.
- Please do not climb on or over fencing or gates.
- In the event of a fire follow directions from staff & muster in car park.
- Any visitor with a cut or abrasion must cover the injury. Plasters are available from First Aid in the shop.
